About the Workshop:

The Department of Botany G.P women's college will be organizing a workshop on Organic Farming from 27th December 2022 to 2nd January 2023 with a view to imparting knowledge of organic farming to college and University teachers. The workshop aims to enrich the participating teachers on the methods of the organic farming and its benefits. They will become a role model imparting the same to their students. The greater aim of this workshop is to provide nutritious food to the people without harmful chemicals.

Organic farming is a farming method that aims to work in harmony with nature by emphasizing on using only biological materials and bio Fertilizers to provide nutrients for the growth of the crops, promote pollution free and eco-friendly environment.

India being one of the most prosperous country in the world offers a wonderful scope for organic farming as it has local market potential for organic products which has become a source of income for many farmers.

Let's adapt to organic farming to move towards a healthy and sustainable future.

About G.P. Women's College

It was established in 1964 in the D.M. College campus as Government Girls' College with a view to encouraging women's education in Manipur. It was later named G.P. Women's College in 1974 and shifted to the present campus i.e., Old Lambulane, Jail Road, in the vicinity of the Raj Bhavan, Manipur.

The college is primarily for imparting UG education. However, in 2016, it opened PG course in Life Science (Botany and Zoology). As a constituent college of Dhanamanjuri University, it has been conducting since 2018, Post Graduate courses in 12 (twelve) departments under Dhanamanjuri University.

The college is NAAC accredited, and has all the bodies and cells that a college is supposed to have. As a premier College for women, it has been playing an important role to produce many eminent personalities.

About the department of Botany, G.P. Women's College

The department is running UG, PG, and Ph.D. courses. Broad areas of research are Plant Ecology, Plant Physiology, Biochemistry, Ethnobotany, Plant Pathology, and Genetics. At present, the department has seven regular faculty and six Ph.D students working in areas of interest of this department.

The Advanced level Institutional Biotech Hub funded by DBT is in the department of botany and is presently engaged in the characterization of secondary metabolites and in vitro propagation of plants. It is also engaged in using plant tissue culture for the conservation of rare plants.

How to reach G.P. Women's College.

G.P. Women's College is at the centre of Imphal city just opposite to Raj Bhavan, Manipur. It is around 8 km away from Bir Tikendrajit International Airport. It is easy to come to this college from the airport by taxi. The nearest railway station is Dimapur Railway station, which is around 202 km away from the college.
